RESEARCH TEAMS

Australian Election Study (AES)

- The AES is Australia's longest running survey of federal politics, investigating a long-term perspective on the political attitudes and behaviour of the Australian electorate.
- As part of the AES team, I managed the longitudinal (panel) component for the 2016-2019 period by designing and implementing a strategy to minimize panel attrition.

SmartVote Australia

- SmartVote is a voting advice application (VAA) and project of the Australian National University. Its goal is to help the Australian electorate make informed decisions about the electoral process. In its first electoral cycle, SmartVote resulted in more than 500,000 voter-candidate matchings.
- As part of the SmartVote team, I helped create the candidate and voter questionnaires and identify the attitudinal dimensions on which candidates and voters were matched.

OTHER RELEVANT WORK EXPERIENCE
